

Invitation to the 6th Korea-China-Japan
Joint Conference on Geography

New Horizons of East Asian Cooperation

November 6th to 9th, 2011
Seoul National University, Seoul, Korea

FIRST CIRCULAR

WELCOME TO SEOUL!

The Korean Geographical Society is pleased to host the 6th Korea-China-Japan Joint Conference on Geography in Seoul, Korea. After several decades of welcomed cooperation between East Asian countries, exemplified by on-going academic conferences such as this, new roles for geographers in East Asia and the globalizing world, and geographical insights and directions pertaining to cooperation and development are more relevant than ever. This cooperation extends to topics pivotal to cultural, environmental and urban, as well as political and economic geographical aspects of East Asia and its continually broadening role in the world. We welcome scholars, both senior and junior, to share their research and to foster cooperative networks.

THEME AND TOPICS

The major theme of the conference is "New Horizons of East Asian Cooperation." This includes major geographic topics ripe for cooperation; from cultural, urban, political, and economic, to climate, geomorphology, hydrography, cartography and GIS.

VENUE

Hoam Faculty House, Seoul National University, Seoul, Korea
(<http://www.hoam.ac.kr/english/>)

PROVISIONAL PROGRAM

Sunday, November 6, Welcome Dinner

Monday, November 7 to Tuesday, November 8, Paper Sessions

Wednesday, November 9, Excursion and Farewell Dinner

CONTACTS

Professor Choo Sungjae (sjchoo@khu.ac.kr)

Professor Jung Sung Hoon (shjung@kangwon.ac.kr)

Professor Douglas Gress (douglas@snu.ac.kr)

The Korean Geographical Society(geography77@hanmail.net)

TENTATIVE PLANNING SCHEDULE

April, 2011 Distribution of First Circular

June, 2011 Distribution of Second Circular with Registration Form

With call for papers (tentative deadline for abstracts of September 15)